Motorcycle Safety/Personal Protective Equipment

Don Busbice
Garrison Safety Director

Info X

Riders wearing PPE have 40% less permanent physical damage (7 days less time in hospital) after an accident.

(1) Helmets.

(a) For personnel riding MCs and ATVs in the United States, helmets will be certified to meet DOT Safety Standard No. 218, United Nations Economic Commission for Europe Standard 22-05, British Standard 6658, or Snell Standard M2005 according to DODI 6055.04, 20 April 2009, Change 2, references (w), (x), (y), and (z).

(b) For personnel riding MCs and ATVs outside the United States, helmets must meet the HN standards. In those instances where the HN has no standard, helmets must, at a minimum, meet the DOT Federal motor vehicle safety standard.

(c) All helmets will be properly fastened under the chin.

* Italy: Must meet ECE requirements

Info X

(2) Eye protection. Eye protection must be designed to meet or exceed ANSI Z87.1, reference (z) for impact and shatter resistance (includes goggles, wraparound glasses, or a full-face shield (properly attached to a helmet). A windshield or fairing does not constitute eye protection.

(3) Foot protection. Foot protection includes sturdy over-the-ankle footwear that affords protection for the feet and ankles (durable leather or ballistic-type cloth athletic shoes that cover the ankles may be worn).

25% of riders experience ankle injuries in an accident.

Info X

(4) Protective clothing. Protective clothing includes long-sleeved shirt or jacket, long trousers, and full-fingered gloves or mittens made from leather or other abrasion-resistant material. MC jackets and pants constructed of abrasion-resistant materials (such as leather, Kevlar®, or Cordura®) and containing impact-absorbing padding are strongly encouraged. Riders are encouraged to select PPE that incorporates fluorescent colors and retro-reflective material.

80% of riders injure their legs in an accident.

Info X

USAREUR CG Policy Letter

- a. Soldiers assigned to Army in Europe units will wear a vest, jacket, upper outer garment, or motorcycle clothing that incorporates fluorescent and highly reflective material at all times when operating or riding as a passenger on the vehicles described above, on and off post, regardless of local civilian requirements. Military uniforms, including Army physical fitness test wear that is designed to be reflective, do not meet this criterion.

The number of accidents prevented because the rider was seen by other drivers cannot be determined.

Info X

USAREUR CG Policy Letter

- a. Civilian employees (including contractors, but excluding local national employees) and Family members will wear fluorescent and reflective outer garments at all times when operating or riding as a passenger on the vehicles described in paragraph 2 while on U.S. Army installations and are highly encouraged to wear this type of equipment off installations.

60% of riders suffer arm or shoulder injuries in an accident.

The Adult Outstanding Community Volunteer for May Hanna Leong Nominated by ACS Exceptional Family Member Program

Every month for going on two years Hanna has presented an EFMP Information hour, with up-to-date information on a myriad of pertinent and interesting topics for EFMP Families. This venue has served both as a source of information AND a healthy means of support. The information has not only been educational, but supportive in many ways. Families and staff from many organizations within the community have had the opportunity to listen to her presentations followed by the opportunity to ask questions which address personal and professional situations. She comes wonderfully prepared each month with a visual presentation, participant hand-outs, relevant articles, evaluation sheets and a sign-in sheet. She engages the participants, not only offering facts and statistics but also with her humor, realism, and connections to her own life experiences.
