ANTITERRORISM AWARENESS MONTH

- August marks the U.S. Army's seventh annual observance of Antiterrorism Awareness Month. You're the best judge if something is out-of-place in your usually traveled areas. See something, say something. The wide range of terrorist-related threats during the past year reflects the realities of the risks faced by the nation. To help prevent terrorist activities, Army communities must remain vigilant and constantly aware. Focus areas for Antiterrorism Awareness Month include recognizing and reporting suspicious activity (through iWATCH Army and iSALUTE programs), antiterrorism awareness training and information sharing, countering insider threats, and spreading awareness of the risks associated with the use of social media. For any questions contact the USAG Italy Antiterrorism Office at DSN 637-8021/8084/8077 or COMM 0444-71-8021/8084/8077.
