Meet Chris Bradford, the Vicenza Military Community's DFMWR director. Bradford has been in Vicenza for the past four months, having previously served as MWR director at Area 1 in Korea, where he and his family were stationed for the past nine years.

Bradford is accompanied by his three children, ages 16, 14, and 11. He said his reason for coming to Italy was for opportunities for his family. "I'm very impressed with Vicenza. It has great families, events and people in place. With the changes for Del Din and new families, I'm looking forward to the changes and transitions," he said.

Bradford works in Building 203 can be reached at 634-7740 or via email at christopher.j.bradford8.naf@mail.mil.

No bystanders in stopping sexual crime

By Gen. Raymond T. Odierno

Chief of Staff of the Army

Over the last 12 years of war our Army has demonstrated exceptional competence, courage and resiliency in adapting to the demands of war and accomplishing the mission.

Today, however, the Army is failing in its efforts to combat sexual assault and sexual harassment. It is time we take on the fight against sexual assault and harassment as our primary mission. It is up to every one of us, civilian and Soldier, general officer to private, to solve this problem within our ranks.

The Army is committed to the safety and security of every Soldier, civilian and family member. Our Army is based on a bedrock of trust, the trust between Soldiers and leaders that we will take care of each other.

Recent incidents of sexual assault and harassment demonstrate that we have violated that trust. In fact, these acts violate everything for which our Army stands. They are contrary to our Army Values and they must not be tolerated. It is up to every individual to contribute to a culture in which our Soldiers, civilians and family members can reach their full potential.

It is imperative that we protect potential victims from ever experiencing a sexual crime. We must provide compassionate care and protect survivors after a crime has been committed. Our people must be confident that complaints will be handled quickly and decisively, and that our system will deliver justice and protection throughout the reporting, investigation and adjudication process.

Commanders, non-commissioned officers and law enforcement must ensure that every allegation of sexual assault and sexual harassment is thoroughly and professionally investigated and that appropriate action is taken.

Leaders at every level are responsible for establishing a command climate and culture of mutual respect, trust and safety. Leaders must develop systems to see their units, and understand the extent to which their leadership promotes a positive command climate for all Soldiers.

I urge everyone to start a conversation within your unit or organization, among leaders, peers and subordinates, and with family and friends to better understand one another's experiences and to develop better solutions to this problem.

Our profession is built on the bedrock of trust. Sexual assault and harassment betray that trust. They have a corrosive effect on our unit readiness, team cohesion, good order and discipline.

We are entrusted with ensuring the health and welfare of America's sons and daughters. There are no bystanders in this effort. Our Soldiers, their families, and the American people are counting on us to lead the way in solving this problem within our ranks.

The strength of our Nation is our Army
The strength of our Army is our Soldiers
The strength of our Soldiers is our Families
This is what makes us Army Strong!

AFN set to tweak decoder settings in June

By George Smith

AFN Europe

AFN Europe is eliminating one of two American Forces Network Europe satellite transponders in order to reduce redundant capability and decrease overall operating cost. This will require decoder owners to make minor changes June 4-24 to ensure they continue to receive AFN.

"This change is necessary to align budget constrained operations and continue to provide quality AFN service," said AFN Europe Commander, Lt. Col. Sherri Reed.

"But we're doing all we can to help. Starting June 4, use our app at www.afneurope.net to view easy-to-understand instructions as well as all of the channel changes. You can also get help by calling our network operation center in Vicenza 24/7 at 634-8228 or 0444-71-8228," she said.

All AFN Europe decoder owners, including U.S. consulates and embassies, must change decoder frequency and net ID settings June 4-24 or they will be unable to receive AFN satellite radio and TV channels.

Viewers who get AFN TV service via on-base cable, for instance in the Villaggio housing area, do not have to do anything; contractors will make the necessary changes. AFN technicians are set to make the necessary changes in Afghanistan.

The upcoming changes will result in a realignment of some satellite radio and TV channels. Decoder owners will notice more changes than viewers who get their AFN from on-base cable; 12 redundant AFN|prime Atlantic channels and AFN|prime Freedom will no longer be available; those decoder channels offered the same TV shows with local community messages targeted toward specific military installations. AFN|prime Freedom time-shifted AFN|prime Atlantic shows and targeted TV messages exclusively to Afghanistan.

The AFN Europe audience will still get local community messages on radio, www.afneurope.net, social media and AFN 360: Internet Radio. AFN Europe will air TV spots for the U.S. military serving in Afghanistan on AFN|sports.

In preparation for migration to an upgraded digital signal later this year, AFN Europe recommends viewers not to purchase any used decoders unless they are the newest model, the CISCO 9865. When full migration to HD occurs, all other AFN decoders will cease to be operational.

As with all agencies across the Department of Defense, AFN Europe anticipates additional changes this year as it works to provide the Vicenza Military Community with quality entertainment and command information while simultaneously being good stewards of taxpayer dollars.

173rd uncases colors, honors Sky Soldiers

By 173rd ABCT PAO

Having recently returned from their fifth deployment to Southwest Asia since 2003, the Sky Soldiers of the 173rd Infantry Brigade Combat Team (Airborne) uncased their brigade colors at a ceremony on Hoekstra Field May 16, signaling their return and the official end to their most recent deployment to Afghanistan.

In addition to the brigade Soldiers, Family, friends and members of the Vicenza Military Community and Gold Star Family members were on hand to welcome back the 173rd and be present for its recognition ceremony.

Col. Andrew Rohling, commander of the 173rd, spoke directly to the Gold Star Families, telling them that their sacrifices would never be forgotten.

After the uncasing, the 173rd honored their fallen heroes, unveiling their names inscribed on the brigade's mobile memorial. Commanders came to the podium to speak of the 14 Sky Soldiers who made the ultimate sacrifice in service to the nation.

As the formation stood in the pouring rain, Lt. Gen. Donald M. Campbell Jr., commanding general of United States Army Europe, also said a few words, highlighting the determination and resolve of the oft-deployed Sky Soldiers and the Families who support them.

"You look wet, but you look great," Campbell said. "You are the epitome of professionalism in Europe."

He also thanked the Gold Star Families who attended the event, saying that after 12 years of war, the families are still standing tall. Their struggles were not in vain and he could not be more appreciative of those brave Soldiers who made the ultimate sacrifice.

"In a time when so few answered the call to step up and serve, you chose to put the needs of other above your own. I thank you and your nation thanks you," Campbell said.

MPs on bikes

Story and photos
by Julie M. Lucas

USAG Vicenza PAO

The Vicenza Military Police are seeking to create more face time with the community by using bicycles while on patrol. They recently participated in training at Caserma Del Din to help them achieve this goal.

“By having our police on bicycles we are removing the barrier that the vehicle creates,” said Robert Caulford, law enforcement operations officer.

The MPs currently have five trained Soldiers, but due to recent moves it was determined that an additional training session was needed. The training is based on the International Police Mountain Bicycle Association standard. The force will soon receive new bicycles, equipped with lights and sirens, that cost nearly $1,800 a piece, said USAG Vicenza Directorate of Emergency Services officials.

“The training our force receives includes recognizing road hazards and maneuvering smartly to lessen injuries to themselves or the equipment,” said Caulford.

Dressed for success

The MPs are issued helmets, gloves and eye protection as a part of the uniform that also includes brightly colored shirts and pants with reflectors. The bicycles are also equipped with high-visibility headlights. The ultimate goal of the DES is to have all military police trained on bicycle patrol, said Caulford.

Pfc. Tyler Ehnis said that while he is new to the bicycle patrols, he feels up to the challenge.

“By using the bicycle, I can build a better relationship with the community,” Ehnis said.

During the training the Soldiers learned how to balance on the bicycle and move through obstacle courses. Timed rides of three miles were done throughout the training. The Soldiers also learned to dismount quickly, practiced off-road cycling and took a night ride. The final test was a 20-mile ride.

“This is pass or fail and not everyone passes, but we do our best to make sure our Soldiers are safe,” said Sgt. 1st Class Troy Wolverton, provost sergeant.

Family Fun Day a hit despite heavy rain

Story and photos by Julie M. Lucas

USAG Vicenza PAO

Rain clouds and storms threatened to dampen the spirits of members of the Vicenza Military Community during the Family Fun Day May 16. The celebration was created to welcome home Caserma Ederle units from their deployments in the last year and join them together with their families in a fun day.

"It's great to see Soldiers and their families enjoying themselves, regardless of the weather," said Robin Gonzales, Morale, Welfare and Recreation special events coordinator.

With quick maneuvering the celebration was moved indoors to the Arena with discounted bowling, free food and face painting by the Arts and Crafts Center. Upstairs was opened up to the crowd with numerous musical acts including the Dusty Saddle Boys, the Vicenza High School Jazz Band, Syncage and Colleen Lloy. The USO gave out free cupcakes while Global Credit Union gave out free tchotchkes.

The decision was made to close the Vicenza schools so that the children could enjoy the celebration with their parents.

"Having been stationed at several different posts, I was proud to see the 173rd Airborne Brigade Soldiers, families and communities to come together to celebrate the return of the Sky Soldiers and other units who have deployed," said family member Candice Leaverton. "From the memorial ceremony to watching the kids dive into the ice pit, it was a great way to spend the day."

Highland Challenge draws diverse crowd

The pinnacle of the day was the Highland Challenge that was part of the Warrior Challenge series of races. Sixteen different events for the Scottish-themed event included a stone throw, golf stroke and the ever popular mud pit.

Nearly 100 race participants split into three different groups to take the challenge, with elementary school children first, followed by middle and high school aged participants as individuals and teams, and finally adult individuals and teams.

Though the nearby city of Vicenza and its environs were experiencing local flooding conditions brought on by torrential rains, on the field participants were fired up and excited, happy faces were evident everywhere on looked.

Family member Nicole McNeil f, whose husband, Justin, was the first-place finisher in the men's category, had nothing but positive remarks about the day, along with her three children.

"My children had fun making little flags and listening to the wonderful music. The jazz band was very impressive, especially," she said. "Everyone liked getting free food and drinks, and the Warrior Challenge was great, as usual. I'm so happy that the garrison supports the Soldiers and their Families even with the lousy weather."

Outdoor Recreation director Chris Wolff said it was the toughest race held at Caserma Ederle.

"As we were setting up in the down-pour and flooded field, there was some question if people would even come out to race and I was worried that we may be doing it all for nothing," Wolff said. "As usual, the hard-core racers did not disappoint and, if anything, the rain made people more fired up to run."

Following the race, awards were given out to the top three finishers in each category and a best costume award was given out.

Summer Safety Awareness Day at Camp Darby

Story and photos

by Chiara Mattiolo

Darby Military Community PAO

The Camp Darby Military Community participated in Summer Safety Training Day May 8.

Topics covered included safe swimming, motorcycle and bicycle safety, and heat and sun injury prevention.

After a briefing held in the field next to the swimming pool, community members moved on to the pool to view a Red Cross rescue dog demonstration. The program continued at the camping area, where various activity booths hosted practical demonstrations to highlight numerous other safety issues.

With the support and expertise of the Italian Red Cross representatives, a brief class on baby/child choking hazard safety training was also held.

Carabinieri brought a breath analyzer and demonstrated how even minute amounts of alcohol can be detected by the device. With the support of the Military Police and their impaired driving simulator, participants got to experience the unpleasant feeling of driving under the influence of alcohol.

"One of the objectives of the Summer Safety Day activities is the reduction of vehicle and motorcycle mishaps," said Chiara Chelossi, Safety and Occupational Health specialist with the DMC.

May is Motorcycle Safety Awareness Month. The nationwide campaign, sponsored by the National Highway Traffic Safety Administration, urges drivers to "share the road" with motorcyclists, and Army officials are placing greater emphasis on personal responsibility while riding.

"In order to assist in the prevention of motor vehicle and off-duty accidents, we are raising safety awareness during Summer Safety Day with an impaired driving simulation and letting people experience the fatal vision impairment goggles test conducted by the Military Police," Chelossi said.

The special goggles let people experience with a sober mind what it is like to be under the influence of alcohol, experiencing how alcohol impairs a person's balance, vision, reaction time, and judgment.

"The goal of safety awareness day is to make this summer a safe season for our community," said Chelossi. "I am sure the events highlighted today helped increased hazard awareness."

DMC Armed Forces Kids Run

By Darby Military Community PAO

Darby Military Community children turned out to run in a show of support at the Armed Forces Kids Run at the youth center May 18.

In the half-mile event, Thomas Smith took first followed by Nehemiah Feliz and William Humelsine in second and third place respectively.

In the mile, Kayla Feliz took first followed by Andrea Mulford and Anastasia Phillips.

Running for distance in the 2-miler, Syann Ford crossed the finish line first and Andrew Feliz and Brianna Tyner took second and third respectively.

Renaissance Spring: Sculpture and the Arts in Florence 1400-60

This not to be missed exhibit is on display at Palazzo Strozzi in Florence through Aug. 18, then travels to the Musée du Louvre in Paris, France, from Sept. 26 to Jan. 6, 2014.

Organized by Fondazione Palazzo Strozzi and Musée du Louvre the show illustrates, in theme-based sections, the origin of what is still known today as the "miracle of the Renaissance" in Florence, principally through masterpieces of sculpture, through which that "new season" first saw the light of day. The first section is devoted to the rediscovery of the ancient world during the rebirth of interest in the Classical world that occurred between the 13th and 14th centuries, from Nicola Pisano to Arnolfo di Cambio and their successors.

The exhibit is open daily from 9 a.m. to 8 p.m., Thursdays till 11 p.m. Tickets are € 12.50, €4 for school and university groups. Call 055-264-5155 for information. Purchase tickets online at the website below:

Cougars defeat Saints, head to playoffs

Women finish as regional champs for first time ever

By Pete Huller

Special to The Outlook

Despite the soggiest spring season in five years, the Vicenza High School softball and baseball teams traveled to Aviano May 18 and returned home winners.

Both teams swept doubleheaders from their Aviano counterparts, positioning them both as number 3 seeds for the Department of Defense Dependents Schools-Europe Softball and Baseball Tournaments taking place in Kaiserslautern, Germany, beginning this week.

The Lady Cougars were bolstered by strong sophomore pitching performances from Jasmyn Gettelman, who pitched four innings, striking three out three, and Megan Buffington, who pitched six innings, striking out 14. The Cougars benefited as well from exceptional hitting and base-running by Marika Witt, who had six hits with seven runs batted in, six runs scored and four stolen bases in the two games.

The team took both games by scores of 26-10 and 15-1. With their wins, the girls became the Southern Region Champions for the first time ever and travel to Kaiserslautern this week hoping to improve on their third place finish last year in the Europeans.

They will face teams from Bitburg, Ansbach, Schweinfurt and AFNORTH. The latter knocked the Lady Cougars out in the semi-finals last year, and this year's face off promises to be an exciting rematch.

The Cougar men baseball team also looked strong in its regular season finale contest, putting away the Saints with final scores of 10-4 and 9-0 in a darkness-shortened nightcap. VHS freshman Louis Veazey once again dominated Aviano's batters from the mound, hurling five strong innings and racking up 12 strikeouts. Junior Matt Stitzel stroked two clutch singles driving in four runs in the first game, and Jacob Murillo and Jerome Farmer drove in three and two runs, respectively.

Game two saw sophomore Levi Martin belting two hits and driving in two runs, while stymieing Aviano's bats in the first inning. Bryce Fisher completed the job, combining with Martin to no-hit the Saints once again in two innings of play.

Coach Mark Wilson was upbeat with his team's performance.

"I'm so glad we overcame the weather to get in these games," Wilson said. "We had a few breakout performances, and our pitching looked good. This gives us some momentum going into the European tournament."

The Cougars will face Bitburg and Schweinfurt in the Euro tournament. Having finished second or third every year in the tournament's four years of play, the Cougars are aiming to bring home the championship trophy this time around.

Cougar track teams finish season on up beat

Story and photos by Phil Greene

Special to The Outlook

Decimated by to injuries but fueled by talent, a small but determined Vicenza High School track squad traveled to Aviano to close out their regular season this past weekend.

Finishing on a high note, the Lady Cougars qualified another group of athletes for the DoDDS-European Championships, known as the Euros, to be held May 24-25 in Kaiserslautern, Germany.

Junior Gabriel Moore's sterling performance in the long jump established her as the seventh seed in all DoDDS-Europe and a potential upset winner in Kaiserslautern.

Based on their amazing final performance, the Lady Cougar 4x100 squad of Destany Schendel, Shani Cook, Chanel Powell and Gabriel Moore were invited to run in the finals as an "at large" team.

They will join Makeda Ely-O'RIelly, who previously qualified in the 800-meter and as a member of the Women's Sprint Medley along with Schendal, Powell and Cook.

Meanwhile, Cook and Ashley Diaz-Correa continued to dominate the shot-put event south of the Alps, with another first- and second-place respectively, sweep of the event.

The Cougar men's squad's final performance was highlighted by Austin Kelly taking second in the shot-put, and Tanner Allen's third-place finishes in both the men's 100-meter and 300-meter hurdles.

Senior Carl Wilkerson put the capstone on his track career as a Cougar with strong performances in the long jump and 100-meter sprint, and freshman Early Wheeler established himself as a frontrunner for next season with strong finishes in the 400-meter and long jump.

VMC boxers third at IMCOM-Europe

USAG Vicenza PAO

It has been over a decade since a boxing team representing the Vicenza Military Community stepped into the ring at such a venue, but seven VMC boxers broke that mold, battling hard to take third place overall at the IMCOM-Europe Invitational Boxing Championships in Wiesbaden, Germany, May 10-11.

Under the training and guidance of coaches Thomas Talley and Joshua Rubio, Vicenza's boxing team took home four first-place titles, one second-place trophy and two third-place finishes. Boxers Hunter Eckert (light heavyweight) and William Ransom (super heavyweight) took third in their weight classes.

Javier Cranmore finished second in the heavyweight category, and Socorro Baron (welterweight), Gustavo Quintero (light welterweight), Martinez Kelly (lightweight), and Kevin Rainey (light middleweight) each finished first in their respective divisions.

Adding to the surprise factor for four of Vicenza's boxers, this was their first time ever stepping into the ring.

"This program has only been training for two months. Most of the team is very new to boxing and quite a few of the boxers just redeployed from Afghanistan, which really highlights how strong a program we have here," said Talley.

He added that Vicenza has several people on the team with the talent, abilities and desire to take them far in the ring.

Building future boxers

"A couple of our guys are really good, and this program will give them the opportunity to continue to compete here in Europe and then compete in the All-Army boxing championships," Talley said.

Kevin Rainey said he's wanted to be a boxer since he was a youngster and watched boxing matches on television.

"It was a dream come true when I heard a team was being started here. I was deployed and a few friends in Vicenza sent me messages saying Vicenza is starting a boxing team: as soon as I got back from Afghanistan I got involved," said Rainey.

Rainey subsequently had 11 fights, which qualified him to compete in the Open category as opposed to the Novice category, which is for boxers with fewer than ten fights.

Rainey's fight was the main event of the IMCOM-E Championships. His opponent, James Beck, an airman from Ramstein, Germany, had fought 20 fights previously, but Rainey still won by a unanimous decision, 5-0.

"It was very exciting to be part of the main event; it was an honor. I wanted to go out and give the crowd a good show and that's what I did," said Rainey.

There are a lot of misconceptions about boxing, said assistant coach Joshua Rubio, who has been boxing since he was 11 years old and has more than 80 fights to his credit.

"You have to always be thinking. It's not like other sports where you run and catch the ball or throw the ball. Here it's every little punch can mean anything," said Rubio. "I learn a lot from boxing as a person. As a sport I learn respect and discipline. I've met a lot of people during the sport and I love everything about it."

Baron said that once you get over the fact that someone is trying to punch you, it can be a great and rewarding experience.

"I feel like there's a lot of teamwork here; everybody helps each other, everybody is dedicated. I really like the workout and I get a rush that lasts throughout the day," said Baron.

Anyone interested in boxing can find out more at the Caserma Ederle Fitness Center weekday mornings from 6-8 a.m. in the boxing room. Just stop in and ask.

"We've got a great program and certainly we'd like to get more boxers, male and female, to come in and learn the sport," said Talley.
