August is Antiterrorism Awareness Month

Lt. Gen. Donald M. Campbell Jr.

U.S. Army Europe commander

The terrorist and force protection threats facing our Army in Europe communities run a wide gamut. Effectively countering potential threats requires the collaborative efforts of all members of the USAREUR team. Law enforcement personnel patrolling our communities, the guards securing our gates, extensive host nation support, and vigilant community members promptly reporting suspicious activity all contribute to our defensive network. Our security is truly built upon a team of teams.

This August, we will increase our antiterrorism awareness and security efforts throughout USAREUR. Leveraging technology and organizational social media sites to publicize this campaign, it will spotlight individual actions people can take to support our protective posture. I encourage all personnel to review AT training covering the indicators of terrorist threats, identifying suspicious activity, and effective reporting procedures. Share this information with family members, and incorporate the information and behavior into daily activities to reduce our collective risk from terrorism.

Leaders at all levels must make antiterrorism awareness a focal point. Conduct training, sponsor events, and increase communication efforts to emphasize the importance teamwork plays in the protection of our communities. Our work will continue to pay dividends long after the Antiterrorism Awareness Month passes. Each of us plays a critical role in maintaining our strong communities - we succeed or fail as a team.

Strong Soldiers, Strong Team!

What 'Going First Class' means at the Dental Clinic

By Maj. Richard Standage
Vicenza Dental Clinic

Who?

The U.S. Army Dental Command has instituted a new program called "Going First Class" which applies only to active-duty service members, regardless of branch of service. This program does not apply to active-duty family members. Family members can be seen in the Vicenza Dental Clinic for emergency (palliative) care or routine dental care on a space available basis. Family members are encouraged to use their TriCare dental insurance (MetLife) benefit and establish comprehensive care with a private practice dentist for more predictable and timely care.

What?

The "Going First Class" program eliminates the long-standing tradition of walk-in exams to update the mandatory yearly dental readiness category on MEDPROS. Instead, when the Soldier comes due for an annual dental exam, he/she will be scheduled for a dental cleaning appointment, at which time a dental exam will be performed and MEDPROS updated. Scheduling of these appointments can either be done in person or over the phone. Depending on the Soldier's treatment needs, some other routine operative care (dental fillings) may also be initiated that day.

When?

The official start date for the "Going First Class" program in the Vicenza Dental Clinic was July 29. This new way of operating will be the standard way that Soldiers have their dental readiness updated. This new business model of operation is a more efficient way for the clinic to deliver care to our Soldiers and should open up more opportunity for the clinic to provide more predictable care to all eligible beneficiaries.

Where?

This is a DENCOM initiative, therefore, active duty service members can expect to encounter and participate in this program world-wide, anywhere there is an Army dental clinic.

Why?

DENCOM utilizes the Dental Readiness Program to categorize a Soldier's dental readiness (deployability) and to provide methods to reduce the risk of Soldiers becoming non-combat dental casualties. The classifications of dental readiness are defined (briefly) as follows:

Class 1: Patients with a current dental examination, who do not require dental treatment or reevaluation until their next dental examination is due. Class 1 patients are worldwide deployable.

Class 2: Patients with a current dental examination, who require non-urgent dental treatment or reevaluation for oral conditions, which are unlikely to result in dental emergencies within 12 months. Class 2 patients are worldwide deployable.

Class 3: Patients who require urgent or emergent dental treatment. Class 3 patients normally are not considered to be worldwide deployable.

Class 4: Patients who require periodic dental examinations or patients with unknown dental classifications. Class 4 patients normally are not considered to be worldwide deployable.

Historically, DENCOM has focused on readiness numbers (class 1 or 2) and emphasized the need for the Soldier to be deployable at any given time. Now, the focus is on dental wellness numbers (class 1) rather than only readiness numbers. The new emphasis is being placed on having a Soldier's treatment completed in a timely fashion and maintaining the individual in a disease free state of oral health. This positive state of oral health directly correlates with overall health and resiliency, which provides Soldier's who are mission ready. This focus on wellness is in direct support of the Army Surgeon General's goal of transforming our health care system to a system for health.

With the implementation of this program, we plan to take advantage of the Soldier's valuable time and provide more services to them while they are in our clinic. This should help avoid multiple return appointments for the patient while simultaneously improving our failed and cancelled appointment rates. Although this program will likely result in slightly longer dental appointments, it will ultimately result in fewer appointments for the patient. DENCOM anticipates that the utilization of this program will return more time back to the Soldier's unit for training in the long term by lessening the number and frequency of dental appointments.

This clinical practice model closely mirrors that of private practice and will result in better continuity of care for the patient, quicker treatment completion, improved dental wellness numbers, and healthier, happier patients. In addition, as our "Wellness" improves (ie, Soldier's not needing to come to the clinic multiple times), our professional time can be shunted to provide more services to family members. In order for this program to work efficiently and be successful, it is imperative that patients arrive to the dental clinic at least 15 minutes prior to their scheduled dental cleaning appointment. This time is necessary to complete paperwork and have dental radiographs (X-rays) taken to facilitate the annual exam.

By accomplishing these tasks, a patient's scheduled treatment time will be used for exactly that ... treatment. This program will necessitate the dental clinic to maintain a very tight schedule. This administrative requirement must not compromise the treatment time needed to render a Soldier to complete dental wellness. The Vicenza Dental Clinic's failed appointment policy is available and inserted into each Soldier's dental treatment record. Unit Commanders are responsible for dental readiness and appointment compliance accountability.

The Vicenza Dental Clinic appreciates your cooperation with our mandate to better serve our warfighters. Feel free to contact the clinic if you have any questions regarding this new program.

USARAF supported SA 13 makes positive impact

U.S. Army Staff Sgt. Jason D. Jones, Able Company, 82nd Civil Affairs Battalion from Fort Stewart, Ga., assists South African Medical Health Service Capt. François Van Huyssteen, veterinarian with the Military Veterinary Institute, prepare vaccines for local cattle at the mobile veterinary services during Shared Accord 13 near Bhisho, South Africa, July 30.

Story and photos by Spc. Taryn Hagerman
40th Public Affairs Detachment

BHISHO, South Africa - U.S. Army and South African Military Health Service members joined forces offering mobile veterinary services as part of a Humanitarian and Civic Assistance operation during Shared Accord 13 near Bhisho, July 30.

Shared Accord is a U.S. Army Africa supported, biennial training exercise involving in-depth cohesion between U.S. and South African military forces during training scenarios designed to promote regional relationships, increase capacity and further cross-training and interoperability.

HCA events provide health services including dental treatment, HIV screening and optometry aid; however, another crucial element of the HCA is mobile veterinary services including rabies vaccinations and tick treatments, said South African Military Health Service Capt.

François Van Huyssteen, veterinarian with the Military Veterinary Institute.

Members of both militaries work together to assist the Eastern Cape Veterinary Services in administering medications to hundreds of animals daily.

"No matter where we go, we try to make sure that we're not here to receive credit for the U.S. Army," said U.S. Army Lt. Col. Dickie Vest, executive officer and veterinarian with 176th Medical Brigade, 809th Medical Command. "We're just here to reinforce the civilian, government-run veterinary services. We're complementing, supporting and funding programs and procedures that they have in place."

BoyBoy Ngcayishe walked 14 cattle from his nearby home to take advantage of the free vaccines because he said, "the medicines are very expensive."

The event makes expensive treatments available to Eastern Cape citizens at different locations during a five-day period.

"We have exceeded our expectations every day," said Van Huyssteen on the second day. "It's not even 10 o'clock, and I think we are close to treating 100 animals."

This fast start follows a successful first day of treating more than 860 animals to include cattle, sheep, dogs, horses, pigs and donkeys, said U.S. Army Maj. Mike Adams, commander of Able Company, 82nd Civil Affairs Battalion from Fort Stewart, Ga.

Soldiers from Able Company helped with the setup, vaccine preparations and applied some of the topical parasite treatments to keep the event running smoothly. During SA 13, both militaries hope to improve veterinary skills while learning from one another and the HCA's mobile veterinary services is no exception.

"Anybody can learn from anyone," said Van Huyssteen. "We definitely learn from each other and can contribute our expertise to these exercises."

HEALING WARRIORS - READY TO SAVE

Local scout travels to Sri Lanka for project

Vicenza High School freshman Anuk Dayaprema tours the countryside in Sri Lanka while completing his Eagle Scout project. Dayaprema donated nearly 2,000 books.

USAG Vicenza PAO

Anuk Dayaprema, a Vicenza High School student and a Boy Scout from Troop 295 located in Vicenza, completed his Eagle Scout service project with great success in Sri Lanka. The aim of his service project was to distribute an assortment of school and college text books, novels of good nature, fact and fiction books, autobiographies of various prominent people, religious text books, children books of various kinds, all in all numbering more than 1,000 books valued at more than $15,000 dollars. He well surpassed his initial aim, by distributing more than 2,000 books worth more than $30,000 dollars.

"I had done some research as to who would be most benefited and why, to do it with the least costs/expenses incurred and highest consideration given for safety" Dayaprema said.

During his research he had come to know that Sri Lanka went through a brutal internal civil war on perceived discriminations faced by certain minority communities.

"I was sad to learn that peace and harmony existed between the communities living in concord for centuries were lost for nearly three decades," he said.

Dayaprema decided to help the needy, economically poor children studying in impoverished schools and the peasant villagers in the Badulla District in Sri Lanka.

"I chose the Badulla District by taking into consideration the balanced ethnic distribution it represents," Dayaprema said. "Therefore, I believed, all communities are going to be equally benefitted and become better educated, knowledgeable and contributing citizens to the 21st century 'global village.'"

He contacted a deputy inspector general of Sri Lanka Police, Mr. Latiff, for coordinating support and to help identify through his headquarters inspectors of police in their precincts/villages who needed the books most. He collected books through a very vigorous book drive and campaign in Vicenza Military Community and beyond. He shipped the collected books in small boxes to the DIG, for him to receive, store and ship to destinations. Dayaprema collected shipping boxes from the Caserma Eco Center and managed to get a waiver for the shipping costs.

Dayaprema used his summer vacation to personally distribute books in three schools so identified, and the rest of the books were distributed by Headquarters Inspectors to the schools of their respective villages. Dayaprema was well received at the recipient schools. He was ushered in procession with a school band playing and a very elegant stage ceremony was arranged. Moreover, Dayaprema used this summer vacation to do a two-week research project on "Agrochemical Usage among Rural Farmers in the Pambahinna Area" with help from some Academic Staff members of the Agriculture Faculty of the University of Sabaragamuwa.

According to Dayaprema, without the help many, this service project would not have been a success. "The Sri Lankan Police were very instrumental in coordinating this project over two countries spanning a far distance, especially DIG Latiff," he said. Dayaprema also said the Caserma Post Library, the Vicenza Middle School, and the Thrift Shop were instrumental in advertising the service project within their institutions, thus receiving unexpected amounts of books. He would also like to thank the Outlook for notifying community members of the service project as well as the Vicenza Eco Center for providing boxes and other supplies.

"Lastly, I would like to thank the Vicenza community and well-wishers from overseas for being extremely supportive of this project and donating books to the underprivileged members of the Badulla District," Dayaprema said.

Reading program finishes for summer

Children who participated in the Darby Military Community Summer Reading Program receive a certificate and prizes Aug. 7. Nearly two dozen children participated in the summer-long program.

DMC PAO

Children who participated in the Darby Military Community Summer Reading Program received a certificate and prizes Aug. 7 at the DMC Library. Twenty-three children participated in the program from July 1-Aug. 5. The theme for this year's program sponsored by the Department of Defense was "Have Book Will Travel." Children kept track of the books they read, or had read to them, on a reading log provided by the Library.

The program is offered every year to encourage children to read for fun during the summer and prevent Summer Reading Loss Syndrome.

Camilla Pagliaroli said her daughter is too young to read herself, but she and her husband read to their daughter in Swedish and translate it into English for her.

"After a couple of times reading books to her, she is able to talk through the pages with them and is able to say about seventy percent back from memory," Pagliaroli said.

Katie Gray also read to her two children for the program and said, "the program helped get (her son, Aiden) more interested in reading and he came home yesterday and read a book."

Palio di Siena

The Palio of Siena is a living tradition of the city linked to the life of the Sienese over time and in its various aspects and feelings, and still bears the marks of rules established in 1644, the year in which the first race with horses was held. This year's second Palio will be held Aug. 16 beginning at 7:45 p.m. in the beautiful Piazza del Campo. The city is divided into 17 quarters, the boundaries of which date back to 1729, which compete against one another for victory. The Palio is an historic event, not to be missed.

Married outside the Church?

Catholics who married in a different Protestant church or in the town halls by a justice of the peace, are not married in the eyes of the Catholic Church. In order to regain privileges associated with the Church, such marriages must be convalidated in the Catholic Church. If it is the first marriage for both parties, the convalidation process is simple. For more information contact Fr. Fleury.
