FERS-FRAE retirement changes

By Defense Civilian Payroll
System Support Office

The Bipartisan Budget Act of 2013, Section 401, requires implementation of new retirement plans for new employees hired on or after Jan. 1 of this year.

The new plans, with retirement codes KF, LF, MF, NF, OF, DF and PF, and collectively known as Further Revised Annuity Employee (FRAE), increased required employee retirement contribution rates by 1.3 percent of gross basic pay. This means that as of Jan. 1, 2014, new employees will make the additional retirement contributions at a rate that 1.3 percent of salary above that set for FERS Revised Annuity Employees (RAE).

Due to the complexities in modifying the payroll system to accommodate this change in employee contribution, the Defense Civilian Pay System (DCPS) will not be able to account for this increase deduction from affected employees until the pay period ending Aug. 9, with the pay date Aug. 21. Once the system changes have been made, retroactive adjustments will be effected to the date of the employee's appointment, resulting in an underpayment, effectively a debt, in retirement contributions.

Impacted employees will be notified by DFAS-Indianapolis about the FERS-FRAE retirement payments and debt which will explain the issue, identify how retroactive retirement employee contributions were computed, and provide standard due process letters along with a description of employee options for repayment.

Employees who receive pay information electronically via myPay, information will be sent to the related email address. For employees without email addresses, hard copy notification will be sent to the related Official Personnel File address. If an employee has elected to receive pay information via hardcopy mail, it will be mailed to the employee.

By CFPB Consumer Financial Protection Bureau

Office of Servicemember Affairs

The Consumer Financial Protection Bureau (CFPB) took enforcement action July 10 against ACE Cash Express, one of the largest payday lenders in the United States, for pushing payday borrowers into a cycle of debt. The CFPB found that ACE used illegal debt collection tactics, including harassment and false threats of lawsuits or criminal prosecution, to pressure overdue borrowers into taking out additional loans they could not afford.

As a result of CFPB's action, ACE will provide $5 million in refunds and pay a $5 million penalty for its violations.

"ACE used false threats, intimidation and harassing calls to bully payday borrowers into a cycle of debt," said CFPB director Richard Cordray. "This culture of coercion drained millions of dollars from cash-strapped consumers who had few options to fight back. The CFPB was created to stand up for consumers and today we are taking action to put an end to this illegal, predatory behavior."

Payday loans, often described by the firms that make them as a way for consumers to bridge a cash-flow shortage between paychecks or other expected income, are usually expensive, small-dollar loans that must be repaid in full in a short period of time.

CFPB takes complaints about payday loans from all Americans, including service members and their families. To submit a complaint, consumers can go to consumerfinance.gov/complaint or call the stateside toll-free phone number 1-855-411-2372 (this is a toll call from Italy) or TTY/TDD phone number at 1-855-729-2372 (also a toll call). Consumers may also reach the bureau vial traditional mail at Consumer Financial Protection Bureau, P.O. Box 4503, Iowa City, Iowa 52244.

Incoming Vicenza Military Community teens tour the historic center of Vicenza during a Teenvenuti orientation tour July 15.

Teenvenuti: Welcome to Italy

By Marquise Silas and Lorenzo Cordero

Special to the Outlook

A total of 14 Vicenza Military Community teenagers boarded a city bus just outside Caserma Ederle and headed downtown to explore Vicenza as part of the Teenvenuti orientation program July 15.

For newly arrived students, who will enter Vicenza Middle and High School at the end of the summer, the Teenvenuti program offers an enjoyable way to meet new people, explore the city's historic center and become a bit more comfortable with Italy, said Norie McCall, USAG Vicenza schools liaison officer, who has helped organize the popular program for the past several years.

The day out on the town started out with teaching the newcomers how to negotiate the city bus system, buy train tickets and find the right track at the Vicenza main train station. It continued with a walking tour through sections of Vicenza's scenic historic center and included quick visits to the Teatro Olimpico and the Palladio Museum.

As lunch time rolled around, the newcomers, their student guides and adult supervisors stopped into a popular trattoria for pizza. A stop at a nearby ice cream, or gelato, shop was next, and the explorers took their time enjoying the wide range of flavors available.

After more sightseeing and discussion the group returned to ACS on Caserma Ederle, where they broke into middle school and high school groups for a quick visit to the schools they will attend in August.

Most students enjoyed themselves quite a lot and headed home on a positive note.

"I would recommend this to future students," said incoming VHS junior Gaby Baus. "It is a helpful and delightful program."

"I think that this is a good experience because it's good for students to come and meet people like themselves, since it's tough to make new friends and have to start from square one all over again," said McCall.

Other tours will take place July 29 and Aug. 12. Call 634-5998 to sign up.

Cleaning up in Monteviale

Soldiers of Company A, 457th Civil Affairs Battalion, pitch in to clear vegetation at the Donestra Callecorta area in nearby Monteviale July 12. The Longare based Soldiers worked with members of the Monteviale Alipini Service Organization to clear the two and a half acre plot of land, which will be made into a park for town residents. After a morning full of 'yard work' the Soldiers shared lunch with their Alpini hosts and received a sincere thank you from Mayor Giuseppe Danieli.

VMC boxers hold their own in Vicenza bouts

Vicenza's Leticia Valle is the highlight boxer of Bring on the Heat July 12 at Del Din.

By Tom Hlavacek

Special to the Outlook

For the first time ever, U.S. Army Garrison Vicenza hosted local Italian boxers in the Bring on the Heat Boxing invitational at Caserma Del Din July 12.

"This event was in coordination with Ricky Jackson from the Fitness Center and Command Sgt. Maj. Mark Council," said Scott Gordon, director of Sports, Fitness and Aquatics. The partnership with Queensberry Boxing Gym to make the event happen took three months of planning, he said.

For the red U.S. team, Soldiers from Kaiserslautern joined VMC fighters, along with an Airman from Aviano. Seven bouts consisting of three rounds of three minutes each kicked off in weight classes ranging from 69-91 kilos.

Vicenza's Leticia Valle gave the U.S. team its first win against Irene Neri of Monfalcone in the 112-lb. category. Her stunning win was the highlight of the evening, said coach Kelvin Reid. Valle rocked her Italian opponent at the end of the third round with a straight right to the head causing a standing eight count by the referee.

Learned self-defense early

"I was able to time and anticipate her punches when I landed that straight right," said Valle, who started boxing while in college in Atlanta. "It was a great way to stay in shape and learn defense. I grew up in Brooklyn and there was always a fight so I learned self-defense early."

Leila Gil, also of Vicenza, triumphed over Arziko Bregu, also of Monfalcone.

Among the men, in the 165-lb. weight class, Sentiljano Kacokaj of Torino won by decision over Stephen Pickens of Vicenza and Marcello Muccio won by decision over Christopher Bookwater.

In the 178-lb. bracket, Juri Mosele of the Queensberry Club won a decision against Marcus Green of Vicenza; Simone Cajelli of Milan retired Mark Spiering of Vicenza; and Jon Lungu, also boxing for Queensberry, won a decision over Vicenza's Brent Wright.

In the heavyweight class of 201 lbs. and up, mainstay of the Vicenza boxing program, William Ransom, won by decision over Alberto Bava of Torino. Yercio Diego Chavez of Torino won against Darwin Mills of Vicenza and Juri Brodesku of Milan defeated Byron Prohovich of Vicenza. In the final bout of the evening Vicenza's Demotto Youngblood battled Platon Cosmin of Montecalvo to a draw.

Intermission featured non-judged exhibition bouts between four U.S. and four Italian youth boxers. The American youngsters were all members of the EDGE! Youth boxing team coached by Samuel Griffin and a team of military and civilian assistant coaches.

In the end, Vicenza scored highest with 42 points, Milan came in second with 15 points and the Queensberry Boxing Club of Vicenza shared third place honors in a tie with the team from Parma.

Nonnrogo Nonkane of Parma was honored as the best Italian boxer of the night and Valle as the best military boxer. The Parma Boxing Team won the best sportsmanship award.

"I think we had a great turnout for our first event, both Americans and Italians. We received a lot of positive feedback from the local community and we are hoping to do this as an annual event," Gordon said.

The future looks good for boxing in Vicenza, according to coach Reid.

"We all need to work on our cardio. I saw a lot of heart in our boxers," he said.

Sky Soldiers drive Humvees to Land Rover rally

Story and photos by
Sgt. 1st Class Adam Stone
U.S. Army Europe PAO

KONOTOP, Poland - Land Rover enthusiasts enjoyed a surprise treat when two High Mobility Multipurpose Wheeled Vehicles (Humvees) driven by 173rd Airborne Brigade Sky Soldiers rolled into the fifth annual Land Rover Only rally July 11.

The annual gathering brought together more than 200 cars and 400 fans to a campground adjacent to the 173rd Airborne Brigade's barracks and provided a spontaneous opportunity for the paratroopers to meet with ordinary Polish citizens while in the country for training activities.

Every available space under the trees and around the festival campground was packed with tents, tables and Land Rovers, and local children ran and played in the water and the sand.

The idea of approaching the Land

Polish Land Rover enthusiasts check out a Humvee belonging to Company D, 2nd Battalion, 503rd Infantry Regiment, 173rd Airborne Brigade, at the fifth annual Land Rover Only gathering near Konotop, Poland, July 11. Below: Polish and American players pose for a photo after a round of human foosball at the rally. The Polish team won 10-4.

Rover Only group to see if they would be interested in paratroopers from Company D, 2nd Battalion, 503rd Infantry Regiment, 173rd Airborne Brigade, bringing over two Humvees originated with 1st Sgt. Timothy Jensen.

"It was obvious to me. You have Land Rovers and Humvees, both of which are four-wheel drive . . . and who doesn't love four-wheel drive vehicles?" said Jensen.

"When I got over here they were climbing on the vehicles and trying on the American gear, like our helmets. They were eating it up. They really seem to like us," said Pvt. Ricky Colwell.

A friendly mix of everything

The annual rally is a chance for Land Rover enthusiasts get together for a weekend of camping and races in the Polish countryside, said event organizer Tomasz Tomaszewski.

"It's a family-friendly event that has a mix of everything. For those that want to go race, they can do that. For those that want to sit around and enjoy the company, they can do that too," he said.

Toward the end of the evening, the camp gathered around to watch a U.S. versus Poland human foosball competition. The game is played in a 5-on-5 format in which four players grab the bar and face four players from the other team, alternating two at a time, with a goalie minding the net. The 10-minute rounds seemed longer than that to the paratroopers, who lost by a score of 10-4.

"The game was hard. Since we had to hold on to the bar, if one guy went one way you had to go with him. It took us a few tries to start playing behind us too," said Pfc. Skylar McMahon.

Afterwards everyone gathered for group photos and some sincere slaps on the back.

Approximately 600 paratroopers from the brigade are presently in Estonia, Latvia, Lithuania and Poland, as part of Operation Atlantic Resolve to demonstrate commitment to NATO obligations and sustain interoperability with allied forces.

Effetto Venezia

Highpoint of summer in Livorno

Effetto Venezia, which literally means the “Venice effect,” is the highlight event of summer among the many taking place in Livorno.

The extravaganza takes its name from the city district where it takes place, La Venezia, which will be the site of the show this year from July 25 to Aug. 3 from 9 p.m. to late each night.

La Venezia lies in the historical center of Livorno, and is crisscrossed by myriad small waterways called fossi, which were built by the Medici family to facilitate the transport of goods into the city. The architecture of the district is reminiscent of the city of Venice and is the oldest section of Livorno, being the only area to have survived the Allied bombings of World War II.

Today, Effetto Venezia is a summer evening festival with something for everyone, a combination of music, art, theater, poetry, cabaret and crafts. There are performances and entertainment with something to appeal to all ages and tastes, ranging from theatrical and musical performances, street art and exhibitions and cultural initiatives. The many special events, too numerous to name, take place both in the streets and the squares of La Venezia itself and in the nearby Old Fortress.

Bars and restaurants set up outdoor stalls and tables to serve food and beverages, allowing visitors and residents alike to better enjoy the beautiful scenery of La Venezia, which festively lighted every night.

The Effetto Venezia attracts large crowds. Beginning in the early evening and continuing into the night, the area is thronged with spectators taking in the spectacle, browsing the crafts stalls, stopping to watch an itinerant street skit and enjoying the cooler evening air from a comfortable perch at one of the many outdoor restaurant tables.

Traditional culinary specialties abound

All the area’s little restaurants will feature the traditional food of the town of Livorno, which is traditionally the typical food of the poor people.

The most popular is the cacciucco, a mix of sea food prepared historically from leftovers of the fishermen’s daily catch cooked in tomato sauce and laid on a slice of roasted bread rubbed with garlic.

Also typical is the ponce, a very short coffee mixed with a type of rum and a slice of lemon. It is always served in a small glass and must be really hot.

During Effetto Venezia, visitors can enjoy a boat tour of the fossi built by order of the Medici, which enables a remarkable nighttime view of old Livorno, passing under the several bridges from the 17th century that dot the area. Actors dressed in traditional costumes will accompany the tourists on their journey, singing songs from boats of their own along the canals.

Boat tour reservations can be made at the Tourist Information Office in Livorno or by calling 348-738-2094 or 333-157-3372.

Festa del Redentore in Venice

VENETO

Sagra del Redentore e Parata Storica Our Savior Festival and Historical Parade

July 18-22 in Ponte di Barbarano, Viale Crispi 2, about 13 miles south of Vicenza. This sagra dates back to the end of the 12th century, when it was first celebrated in the park of Villa Pedrina-Rigon. Organized by the villa's hereditary owners, the Sangiantofetti family, it was conceived as an addition to the Redentore parade in Venice (see below). The sagra features carnival rides, a painting exhibit and a charity raffle. Food booths featuring bigoli, gnocchi, grilled meat, sausage and bacon, fried fish and the local dessert specialty known as Il pane del Doge, or Doge's bread, open daily at 7 p.m.; live music and dancing starts at 9 p.m.

Festa del Redentore Our Savior Festival

July 19-20 in Venice, San Marco Square. This is one of the best known and most interesting events that take place in Venice as it combines a deeply religious historical theme with a spectacular celebration that attracts thousands of visitors every year. The Festa celebrates the city's redemption (hence the name) from a terrible plague in 1576. In a desperate attempt to ward off the worst, the Venetian Senate decreed that if the city were to be saved a temple would be built in honor of Christ the Savior, and when the city survived its ordeal the Redentore Church was built. Since then a pilgrimage has been held every year to commemorate the saving of the city. On July 19 hundreds of decorated boats will gather in the Giudecca Canal and in front of St. Mark's square. Fireworks in St. Mark's Bay start at 11:30 p.m.

Venigallia - Festival Celtico Celtic Festival

July 24-27 in Cesuna, about 34 miles north of Vicenza. Organized by the local Celtic association, the festival features a sixth century historical re-enactment with the goal of raising awareness about the region's Celtic heritage. Visit a Celtic village with typical huts, livestock, crops and traditional trades such as weaving, leather, wood, iron and gold processing; historical re-enactments of battles between Celtic tribes and Roman legions; children's Celtic village with traditional games and activities; Celtic crafts exhibit and sale; food booths feature Celtic specialties; live Celtic music at 8:30 p.m.

TUSCANY

La Festa Medievale Medieval Festival

July 18-20 and July 25-27, in Monteriggioni (Siena). The castle of Monteriggioni has remained largely intact over the centuries and provides an ideal historic setting for performers in costume, torch-bearers, sword swallowers, snake charmers, fire dancers and wandering poets to recreate the ambiance of the Middle Ages. This year there will be a children's medieval space with games and surprises; exhibit and sale of medieval inspired crafts such as leather masks, pottery, wooden toys for children and reproductions of antique weaponry and heraldry. To put visitors in the mood, purchases can be made only using a coin called the Grosso, the ancient currency of the Republic of Siena, available in 1-, 2-, and 5-grossi denominations: exchange your money at the two banks located on the main square. Food booths will feature local traditional dishes and medieval specialties. Entry: July 18 and July 25, €8, reduced €6; July 19 and July 26, €12, reduced €10; July 20 and July 27, €10, reduced €8; reduced tickets for children 11-16 and seniors over 65; free entry for children under 11.

Sagra degli Strozzapreti Strozzapreti Festival

Through July 20 in Sticciano Scalo (Grosseto), Via Vecchia. Strozzapreti (literally, priest chokers) are a local hand-rolled pasta. There are several legends to explain this name: one is that priests were so enthralled by the delicious pasta that they ate it too quickly and choked to death. Another one goes that wives would customarily make the pasta for churchmen as partial payment for land rentals, and their husbands would be so angered by venal priests eating their wives' food that they wished the priests would choke as they stuffed their mouths with it. Live music and dancing nightly at 9 p.m.
