Measles outbreak in Europe continues

Regional Health Command Europe

LANDSTUHL, Germany — Adults and children not vaccinated for measles could be at risk for contracting the illness as a result of an ongoing measles outbreak in several European countries. Regional Health Command Europe officials recommend families review their vaccination records to ensure everyone is fully vaccinated against the disease.

Additionally, in 2017, Army Medicine clinics throughout Europe began giving the Measles, Mumps and Rubella vaccine as part of the routine six-month visit with pediatricians. The vaccine is highly encouraged for all children aged 6-12 months, especially those in daycare. This dose is in addition to the two doses given to children in the U.S. over 12 months of age.

Measles is an extremely contagious virus, with 100 percent of exposed susceptible individuals becoming infected.

The virus can linger in the air of a room or transportation vehicle for up to two hours, according to Col. Rodney Coldren, preventive medicine chief, Public Health Command Europe.

“There is a very safe and effective vaccine to prevent this disease,” said Coldren. “The vast majority of Americans are already immunized against measles, but keep in mind we’ve vaccinated at least two doses of the MMR vaccine in early childhood.”

Forum offers platform for feedback, ideas

VICENZA — The Army Family Action Plan (AFAP) is the military family’s platform to voice quality-of-life issues, feedback, ideas and suggestions.

It’s the best way to let Army leadership know about what works, what doesn’t, and how you think problems can be resolved. AFAP gives active and Reserve Component Soldiers, Army civilians, retirees, survivors and family members a primary tool to help identify issues and concerns and shape standards of living.

The program identifies critical issues concerning welfare and morale and presents them to senior Army leadership for resolution. Since AFAP was created in 1983, 714 issues have been submitted, resulting in 129 legislative changes, 193 Department of Defense or Army policy changes and 214 improved programs or services. Some examples of AFAP successes Armywide include:

• Service member's Group Life Insurance increased from $50,000 to $400,000.
• Thrift Savings Plan was authorized.
• Creation of the Better Opportunities for Single Soldiers Program.

To submit an issue or suggestion, fill out the form (cut out from page 4). A few tips:

A separate sheet must be completed for each issue; the issue cannot involve a local matter. Submit those through your local installation Interactive Customer Evaluation [ICE] webpage, http://ice.disa.mil/; and the issue should be something that has Armywide impact.

September is National Preparedness Month

By Michael McKnight
USAG Italy Emergency Manager

VICENZA — 2018 is the 15th year of National Preparedness Month, a month-long campaign that takes place each September to promote emergency awareness and preparedness, and designed to strengthen a citizen’s ability to prepare for, mitigate, prevent, respond to and recover from any natural or man-made disaster.

One can never fully predict when a disaster will strike, but we can — individually and collectively — ensure we are prepared to respond accordingly.

This year’s NPM focuses on planning, with the theme: “Disasters Happen. Prepare Now. Learn How.” It’s a good time to review the Army’s four preparedness tenets: be informed, make a plan, build a kit, and get involved.

Being prepared means having a plan. Whether you are at home, at work or on-the-go, it's important to create a plan in case of an emergency. Planning ahead will ensure that you and your family will know what to do and have the supplies you need to be safe wherever you are.

For your home, think ahead with your Family Emergency Plan. A simple plan can be found at http://www.italy.army.mil/em.asp.

CID launches new crime tips system for web, phones

The Army Commandant and American public now have the ability to use their computers and smartphones to submit tips about crimes, suspicious activity or threats to the U.S. Army’s Criminal Investigation Command via a new digital crime tips system.

The CID crime tips system recently transitioned to a web-based and smartphone app submission method. The public can access the system via any Internet-connected device by visiting www.cid.army.mil. In addition to the web interface, the app is for submission of tips and is available for free download on the user's web interface, the app is for submission of tips and is available for free download on the web-connected device by visiting, http://www.cid.army.mil. In addition to the web interface, the app is for submission of tips and is available for free download on the web-connected device.

According to CID’s implementation project manager, Special Agent Christopher L. Adams, the new system provides users a safe, secure and anonymous method to report criminal activity and security threats without concerns of retaliation or fear.

He explained that when a person submits a tip online, the information is securely transferred directly to Army CID through a Secure Sockets Layer connection, which means that the tips are encrypted, entirely confidential and completely anonymous. Users can also attach images, videos and documents with their tips.

“This new system is the ideal solution for ‘tipsters’ to report criminal activities or suspicious activity anonymously,” Adams said. “After submitting a tip, a tip reference/ID number is created that allows the tipster to create a password to check the status of a submitted tip or check on the status of a reward — if applicable. So do not misplace your tip number, as it will be needed to check on the status of your tip.”

There is also the multi-language feature for global use that allows tips to be auto-converted into English on the backend regardless of what language they were submitted. Tips will be responded to in English and auto-translated back to their source language during the two-way dialog process.

According to Christopher Grey, CID’s spokesman, the previous methods of reporting a crime to CID will remain in effect until the new Crime Tips System is fully implemented.

“It is critical for people to say something when they see something and it literally can mean the difference between someone receiving the justice they deserve or victimizing another innocent person,” Grey said.

“Although we prefer people with information to use the new digital Crime Tips system, they can still report a crime through current methods until these methods are phased out within the next 60 days: contact your local CID office, contact 1-844-ARMY-CID (844-276-9243) or email CID at Army.CID.Crime.Tips@mail.mil.”

LANDSTUHL, Germany — Public Health Command Europe is urging people in Northern Italy to take extra precautions against West Nile Virus this year due to an increased risk of exposure to West Nile Virus.

Health authorities have identified at least 123 human cases of West Nile virus in Emilia-Romagna and Veneto, Italy, between June and Aug. 8. This number increased significantly compared to only five cases identified during the same period in 2017.

The West Nile Virus is transmitted to humans through the bite of an infected mosquito, according to PHCE.

“The WNV, Culex species, mosquito is a day and dusk biting pest and their occurrence around our home is weather dependent,” said Maj. Amanda Cline, PHCE Entomological Science Program chief.

“Mosquitoes will be present in northern Italy as long as the days are warm and there is an available water source, which is typically from April to November. The mosquito population will taper off after a few consecutively freezing nights.”

Most infected people who have been bitten by this specific mosquito develop no symptoms. However, a few do. Approximately 20 percent of infected people develop febrile illness characterized by symptoms of fever, headache, body aches, joint pains, vomiting, diarrhea and rash.

“Less than one percent of infected individuals develop serious neurological illness, which can be life-threatening. The virus’ symptoms typically appear within two to six days after being bitten, but can develop up to 14 days after exposure,” explained Lt. Col. Ruben Ortiz from U.S. Army Africa Surgeon’s office.

 Avoid scratching mosquito bites and apply hydrocortisone cream or calamine lotion to reduce itching. Seek medical attention if the symptoms develop within two weeks of being in affected areas.

To avoid mosquito bites, PHCE recommends the following:

- Use insect repellent that contains DEET when outdoors
- Wear a Permethrin-treated military uniform and wear it properly
- Eliminate mosquito breeding sites by draining standing water around your property
- Make sure door and window screens are intact and repair any necessary
- Remove standing water from flower pots, birdbaths and children’s pools
- Empty pet bowls, buckets, tires, flower pots, abandoned swimming pools, and gutters
- Change water in yards and work areas. Check old tires, bird baths and children’s pools every week. Mosquito larvae can survive in water the size of a bottle cap.

Principal selected as Vicenza superintendent

By William Griffin
DoDEA Public Affairs Officer

SEMBACH, Germany — Department of Defense Education Activity Europe Director for Student Excellence Dr. Deil McMullen is pleased to announce the selection of David Rady as DoDEA South District’s Vicenza Community Superintendent. The selection was made through a competitive process.

Rady has more than 20 years of experience as an educator and 18 years with DoDEA. He served as principal of Vicenza High School from 2015 to 2018, where he led the implementation of DoDEA’s College and Career Ready Standards and instructed weekly focused collaboration time for teachers.

Rudy was the principal of West Point Military School from 2000 to 2015. During his tenure there, he led individuals through WPSM through a series of focused, collaborative improvement initiatives and a successful AdvancEd Accreditation External Review during the 2012-2013 school year. The school was named a National Blue Ribbon School of Excellence by the U.S. Department of Education for the 2011-2012 school year, one of just 33 military schools nationwide to be so recognized.

“David Rady brings tremendous experience and a proven track record of success from his assignments across DoDEA,” said McMullen. “His previous work in creating collaborative environments for educators and students is a perfect match to continue building upon the strong foundation established in the Vicenza community.”

Rudy holds two degrees from the University of Central Florida, a Bachelor of Science in Education and a Master of Education in Educational Leadership.

“I am looking forward to serving military-connected students across the Europe South District in this new role,” said Rudy. “Our families deserve nothing short of excellence in education for their children, and I am excited about us achieving excellence in all of our district schools by partnering with students, parents, teachers and community stakeholders.”

DoDEA plans, directs, coordinates and provides children’s pre-kindergarten through 12th-grade education programs for school-age children of Department of Defense personnel who would otherwise not have access to high-quality public education. DoDEA schools are located in Europe, the Pacific, Western Asia, the Middle East, Cuba, the United States, Guam and Puerto Rico. DoDEA also provides support and resources to local educational agencies throughout the United States that serve children of military families.

All issues submitted are considered and worked until resolution, unless they are deemed unattainable. Keep in mind that it may take some time for the results of your issue to be seen. The “Issue Title” should be a brief summary of the issue or problem, not a sentence. Make sure to be specific — the title should tell the reader what the issue is all about, i.e. “tuition assistance for overseas spouses.” “Scope” is a clear and concise statement describing the issue, why it’s a problem and whom it affects. The scope should be written in paragraph form (three to four sentences long). State the problem, provide facts or additional information, and say why the issue is important.

Under “Recommendation(s),” list practical recommendations for what you want to happen to “fix” the issue or problem identified in the scope. Use strong action verbs (e.g. provide, conduct, develop, fund, build), and remember there is a limit of three or fewer recommendations per issue.

An example of a well-written recommendation is as follows: “Develop a tuition assistance program for overseas spouses.”

AFAP accepts issues on an ongoing basis; however, to have an issue considered for fiscal year 2018, deadline is Oct. 8.

Scan and email this form to AFAP Program Manager, Stephanie A. Cummins, Stephanie.A.Cummins5.civ@mail.mil, or drop form off at the front desk of Army Community Service, Building 108 on Caserma Ederle. Anyone with questions or needing assistance may contact Cummins at 0444-71-8138.

separated during a disaster. The Veneto region, and especially Vicenza, is no stranger to severe weather. Floods, earthquakes, damaging hail and high wind storms can happen with little to no warning. When an emergency strikes, knowing what to do before, during and after may make all the difference when seconds count.

Are you looking to create a basic disaster kit? Look no further than your Post Exchange and Commissary. Items for a basic emergency supply kit can easily be found at these two locations. Individually we can make a difference by getting involved in our community. Join the “America’s Preparation!” campaign. All families and individuals are encouraged to join and can do so by visiting the Ready Army website at (www.ready.army.mil) and pledging to prepare. The U.S. Army Garrison Italy Emergency Management office will have displays at the Vicenza and Darby Exchanges and commissaries to provide community members with easy tips on how to prepare for disasters. Are you ready to make a difference for yourself, your family and your community? Make the pledge and be Army ready.

DPW Environmental Division

VICENZA — The United States Army Garrison Italy commander signed a recycling policy Aug. 20 that refers to Army and Italian regulations concerning proper disposal of recyclable and non-recyclable waste, and implements mandatory solid waste recycling to the maximum extent possible.

Garrison Commander Col. Erik M. Berdy approved the policy that further prohibits improper disposal of recyclable items into a dry waste container; and disposal of waste generated from outside USAG Italy (Darby and Vicenza military communities) into a waste container on any Garrison installations.

Command emphasis is being placed on increasing our recycling rates, and this policy is being used as the kick-off for this campaign.

Many people may not know the VMC spends $2.35 million per year for recycling/divest collection. By comparison, natural gas costs about $1.5 million annually here. It costs roughly $2.00 per roll-off for the disposal of non-recyclable (dry waste), while cost for recyclables is approximately $0.70.

A 2016 Solid Waste Study showed that 67 percent by volume of Vicenza dry waste was recyclable. One can easily see how maximizing recycling rates can save USAG Italy a significant amount of monies, money that can be better used for mission and community support.

So what is recyclable here in Italy? Practically everything. Items must be segregated into the following categories: umido (food waste) and clean (e.g. not contaminated with food) items including glass, plastic and cans, batteries, and paper. These are collected through USAG Italy custodial contracts.

Larger items such as electronics can be taken to your municipality or the Caser-ma Ederle/Dei Din eco centers. At Darby, large items may be brought to the Solid Waste Accumulation Point; and batteries to containers located across from the post office and the Depot Coffee Bar.

Pharmaceutical waste is collected at the Ederle Medical Clinic, or personnel can bring it to any pharmacy for proper disposal. Eco islands are also located throughout USAG Italy; there you can place separated waste into the proper containers.

Examples for dry waste (non-recyclables) are items such as: rubber, audio and video cassettes, CDs, dishes, cutlery, toys, pens, wax paper, laminated paper, nylon stockings, rags, diapers, sanitary napkins, cosmetics, vacuum cleaner dust, shoes, incandescent light bulbs, and ceramics/porcelain.

The Directorate of Public Works is currently working to procure recycling containers for VMC recycling devices and barracks, and Villaggio housing. By purchasing these bins, the garrison is making an effort to better facilitate recycling efforts. The goal is begin distribution of these containers in late October.

Please join us in supporting this important Army sustainability initiative. This will ultimately support the mission, enhance well-being in the community, and protect the environment.

piance manager, Kurt Brownell, at DSN 637-8266, comm. 0444-61-8266, or kurt.a.brownell.civ@mail.mil.

VMC Italy Public Affairs Office

VICENZA — Library book members here got a special treat when they gathered Sept. 6 for their monthly meeting on Caserma Ederle.

The group had the opportunity to discuss their latest read, "The Best Mud in Italy," with its author, Myra Robinson.

Robinson, a self-proclaimed "Yorkshire lass" from northern England has, since 2009, split her time between her homeland and Italy, where she has fallen in love with the small town of Battaglia

Terme in Padova.

September’s book club choice came about when Caralyn Champa, public services librarian for U.S. Army Garrison

Italy, found the book after reading Robinson’s article about Catajo Castle in Italy, with its author, Myra Robinson.

"I wanted to do something different,"

Champa said. "When it was time for her to go back home to Minnesota, she asked if she could take my Kindle so she could finish the book." When it was time for her to go back to the States, how was I going to read the book.

"It was great fun," said Champa. "Myra has a charming British accent and sense of humor, and she was tickled by how closely we paid attention to her stories."

The writer’s visit to Caserma Ederle was a successful one, as 18 club members (including two newly arrived spouses) were there to greet her.

The Exchange Protection Plans secure major purchases from the most common threats, including accidental damage from handling, breakage, fire, wind, dust and humidity; and power surges.

Plans can be purchased for varying length of years — up to lifetime coverage — for as little as two percent of the item price.

"The Exchange appreciates that Italy Exchange Soldiers, Airmen and their families choose to spend their hard-earned money with us," said Exchange

General Manager Susana Sobrino. "We want to do all we can to help them protect their purchases so they get the most value for their money."

Buyers can easily add an Exchange Protection Plan to eligible purchases by speaking with an associate when they checkout.

In other Exchange news, AAFES is inviiting folks to get in touch with their creative side at a play dough sculpt-event

Sept. 15. The event will take place from 11 a.m.

to 2 p.m. in the Vicenza Main Store and will feature a variety of playsets for children to build and sculpt. Children ages three and older are invited to join the fun.

"It’s always a good time hosting kids’ events at the Exchange," said General Manager Susan Sobrino. "It’s about bringing the community together and giving the kids and their parents a chance to meet and play with new friends."

Writer Myra Robinson enjoys her visit with the Vicenza Library book club Sept. 6 on Caserma Ederle. Robinson spent the evening with about 20 members of the community to discuss her book, "The Best Mud in Italy."

and a Dozen Ways to Cook a Rabbit, Trattoria Tips, and The Grand Dame of Tuscany, “Mud” is an eclectic read that easily worms its way into the hearts of readers — especially those from countries other than Italy who have the experience of day-to-day living here. Although she studied French and spent much time in France, the writer said she ended up Italy because she was looking for a change.

"I wanted to do something different," Robinson said. “So I decided to come to Italy. And I wanted to be in an area off the tourist track."

The town became her home away from home, and its people and her experiences living and traveling gave her plenty of material for what became a body of work that she describes as a “labor of love.”

Stop, look, listen: Bus safety begins, ends at home

Safe student transportation is one of Department of Defense Education Activity—Europe East District’s highest priorities.

The following highlights critical school transportation-related safety protocol and measures to keep students safe and prepared for the daily travel to and from their school.

(1) LOOK at and KNOW your children’s route to and from the bus stop.

(2) SHOW children how to go safely to and from the bus stop. Use hands-on instruction. Cross streets only at designated crossings; do not cross the street between parked cars.

(3) REVIEW the five safety rules (below) with your children. Follow up and reinforce.

(4) STRESS good behavior on the bus — good behavior and safety go hand-in-hand. Students must present bus passes to the driver when boarding the bus.

(5) REPORT safety or security concerns to the school bus office.

Children, particularly in kindergarten through 2nd grade, need parental supervision to keep them safe. Please take them to and from the bus stop, and wait with them until they have safely boarded the bus. When they return from school, meet them on the same side of the street as the bus stop. Do not wait in a parked car or a building; do not allow your child to come to you after getting off the school bus.

Important facts for parents to know:

- In Europe, traffic does not stop for loading and unloading school buses. Teach your children this life-saving rule: Never cross in front of or behind a loading or unloading school bus.
- Children are at the greatest risk for accidents and injuries going to and from the bus stop.

Five basic safety rules that prevent most accidents and injuries are as follows:

(1) Be on time. Walk, do not run to the bus stop.

(2) When waiting for the bus, take at least three large steps away from the curb.

(3) Take your seat on the bus and stay in it while the bus is moving. If there are seat belts, buckle up.

(4) When getting off the bus, take three large steps away from the curb and wait for the bus to depart before crossing the street.

(5) Never cross the street in front of or behind the bus.

Montessori education

The MOMS Club of Vicenza would like to provide Montessori education for parents by offering a three-part program that serves as an introduction to Montessori.

Sessions will take place the first Tuesday of each month at Building 300A, next to the Mensa on Caserma Ederle. The first one took place in September, and there will be one each in October and November. Session duration will be 30-45 minutes. Children will have free play and craft time in the adjoining room.

Montessori education is a world-renowned system that was developed in Italy by the Italian physician and educator, Maria Montessori. Her methods focus on self-directed activities, hands-on learning and collaborative play.

Federation of American Football). On July 7, he participated in what has become one of the highlights of that side gig: he was the only American this year to officiate at the “Italian Super Bowl,” in the Division 3 championship game for the Federazione Italiana di American Football (FIDAF; in English, the Italian Federation of American Football).

Turney, a Department of the Army civilian who serves as a public affairs specialist and webmaster for United States Army Garrison Italy, said he was especially honored because he was the only American to officiate in the Super Bowl and the league this year, and the only person ever to be a Division 1 White Hat as a first-year official in FIDAF.

“I won’t deny that I was scared to death in those Division 1 games,” Turney said, laughing. “It was an amazing honor. This was 1st Division football and a really big deal here in Italy. Every move we made was going to be televised.”

But years of training and experience had prepared him for it. Turney began officiating unit- and high school-level football in Heidelberg, Germany, in 1988. From there, he moved stateside and joined the football association in whatever town he found himself at, including locations in Virginia, New York, Nevada and Georgia. He learned to call NCAA rules and participated in a variety of training experiences. Such training variables included getting comfortable with rules, and participated in a variety of weekly meetings and clinics, to group talks and annual certification exams. He also spends a lot of time studying rules and preparing for games on his own.

“We (referees/umpires) can never take it for granted that we know a rule,” said the Milwau- kee, Wisconsin native. “I am always studying, preparing, sharing rules. We have to make split-second decisions on the field, and we have to know the rules cold. I never want to be the reason a team hates you. It teaches you a lot.”

Although he has served as White Hat in other places, Turney, who has been living and working in Italy since October 2016, had to work his way up to the position of referees before the game, making sure uniforms are correct, assigning positions and more.

“The responsibility of the White Hat is significant. The person who holds that position on the field is legally responsible for the game, from one hour before and until everyone steps off the field at the end. The responsibility also includes communication with the team of referees before the game, making sure uniforms are correct, assigning positions and more.”

Turney encourages anyone who is interested in becoming involved with the FIDAF to reach out to him if they need assistance in getting in touch with the right contacts. He also recommends studying NCAA rules and going in with a good attitude.

“As for his side gig, he plans to participate for as long as he can deliver a quality game.”

“For me, it’s all about the excitement when it all works, and the most fun you can have in sports. It's an exciting time when it all works, and when it doesn't, well, your mistakes are out there for the world to see. You need to own it and move on. Every time you blow a whistle or throw a flag, half of the people there love you and the other half hates you. It teaches you a lot.”

VICENZA — For 20 years, Mark Tur- ney has moonlighted as an official for sporting events, namely softball, soccer and football. No matter where his career took him, he sought out the local association and signed on.

KAIERSLAUTERN, Germany — Two unit softball teams represented Vicenza as part of the Installation Management Command-Europe Commander’s Cup program: 173rd Brigade Engineer Battalion and 54th BEB. The three-day softball tournament ran from Aug. 10 through Aug. 12, and wrapped up the 2018 softball season for all Army garrisons throughout Europe.

The 54thh won the tournament, not losing a single game. Their coach could not have been more proud.

“We saw some outstanding ball clubs up there, but the team fought and competed every inning, every out and every pitch. Like the ‘Sky Soldiers’ they are, the team fought and won. I couldn’t be more proud of them,” said Coach Nate Guajardo. (Courtesy photo)

Beginning Photography: Camera Settings
Four-week class that takes place
Sept. 19 & 26, Oct. 3, 6 & 10
6:30-7:30 p.m., $45
Arts & Crafts Center, Caserma Ederle
If you are brand new to photography or have been stuck in ‘Auto’ mode this whole time, then this beginner’s photography workshop is for you! This is much more than an introduction or crash course to your digital camera, this class takes an in-depth look at all of those confusing modes and dials, and shows you how to use them.
